BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE
A graduate of Southern Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky; a noted author; and a dedicated and respected scholar, Rev. Perry C. Bramlett’s life work was taking C. S. Lewis to the local church. His widow, Joan Fine Bramlett of Fairhope, Alabama, selected Mercer University to house this collection to honor Perry’s work, to share the significance of Perry’s life, and to mark his contributions to the scholarship of C. S. Lewis and his friends and their influences.

SCOPE AND CONTENTS NOTE
The collection includes Perry’s notes on more than 2,500 hours of talks, tours, and retreats presented to groups in 25 states. Materials Perry used in his research and writing on C.S. Lewis and others, emphasizing the man, the writer, and his influence are featured in this collection. Also present are materials on the circle of friends who came to be known as the Inklings, notably J. R. R. Tolkien; Lewis’s brother, Warnie Lewis; his wife, Joy Gresham Davidman; and his illustrator, Pauline Baynes, among others.
