Preface

The Modern Girl! What theme fills the college man's life as much as this? What catches his attention as much as the flash of silk and the light tap of small heels? The Modern Girl! Capable—lovable—self-reliant—alluring. It is she who takes most of our time from our work—over-turns our mess of porridge—yet we love her and respect her. The editors trust that you will find your happier memories of this school year embodied in a pleasant form in the 1929 Cauldron.
Dedication

To one who has worked for the betterment of Mercer University with heart and soul, who has conquered almost insurmountable difficulties that hindered the march to a Greater Mercer—to one who has done what he believed to be right, who has shown himself to be upright, unselfish and sympathetic—to the man—to the administrator,

Dr. Spright Dowell

we take the greatest pleasure in respectfully dedicating the Education means not only adapting oneself to the environment, but also widening the horizons of the environment, so that increasingly more of the world in which we live may have a meaning for us. Without such a widening of mental horizons, education becomes a knack or trade and the individual merely a bundle of specialized habits. It is this process of expansion of intellectual interests which it is the peculiar function of the College of Liberal Arts to inaugurate, and which will therefore always make of that School the very centre and kernel of a real education.

The Mercer University Law School is one of the two standard law schools in Georgia. The Law School is a member of the Association of American Law Schools which has only admitted sixty-three schools, this association being the standardizing agency for law schools in America. The Mercer Law School has also been classified as a standard school by the American Bar Association, and has been placed on the list of approved law schools by such association. The Law School is one of the oldest schools at Mercer University, it having been established for approximately seventy-five years, and has at least one thousand alumni.
The School of Commerce was founded just ten years ago. It aims to bring its advantages as near to all the people as possible; to provide a liberal, thorough, and practical education. Special emphasis is placed upon the importance of practical training, the application of scientific principles; yet the disciplinary value of education is kept constantly in view. It is recognized that man is most important and in all the work the object is to develop high ideals of manhood, to foster all that makes for right living and good citizenship.

Mercer University is a Christian School, being fostered by a large Christian body, in the interest of Christian ideals, work, and citizenship. Men positively Christian in faith and conduct are sought for her faculty, and her work is done in a developing Christian atmosphere. The school of Christianity is an integral part of the University’s work. It is organized primarily for the training of preachers, though its classes are open to all students on equal terms. The full senior year’s work looking to the Bachelor’s Degree, may be elected in the field of Theology. A full year of graduate work, looking to the Master’s Degree, may also be elected in this field.
Welcome Talmage Smalley, A.B., A.M.
Dean of Freshmen

The purpose of the Freshman Deanship is to help the first-year man find himself. At a crucial point in the lives of hundreds of boys—the change from home environment to college life—the Dean of Freshmen stands as a guidepost pointing the way to a safe and worthy destination. He is more than a guidepost: he is a sort of good angel directing the young Hercules to an arduous upward climb, at the top of which the prospect is wide and beautiful; or he is sometimes a good Samaritan caring for the beaten and bruised freshman who fell into rough hands just a little way out of Jericho.

Peyton Jacob, A.B., A.M.
Dean of the School of Education

The function of a higher institution under Christian auspices is to train for those professions which constitute most to the purpose of the Church on Earth. Teaching is ranked with the ministry in opportunities for service. For that reason the School of Education was established in 1920, to take its place along side the other professional schools. Mercer University has, through the years, been engaged in the training of teachers. It has contributed more than its proportion of educational leaders. The establishing of a distinct school has made possible the more adequate performance of a task which has been hers from the beginning.

Coach Bernice Moore

"Coach Moore am a great and noble man," says Lee Battle. These simple words express more satisfactorily the sentiment of the Mercer student body and the athletic world than any eulogy which we might attempt to pen.

Coach Moore first learned the art of athletics at Sewanee. It was also at this school that he served as coach immediately preceding his coming to Mercer. In 1926 he started teaching the Bears how to growl and in that year his team rolled up victories over Howard, Rollins, Oglethorpe and Florida. His football teams have been fighting machines, always playing a little harder because of this man who was directing their destinies.

In Basketball Mercer's fame has spread through the Southland, and here we again find Coach Moore inspiring his men to victory. After acting as head coach for football and basketball for two years, "Coach" was elevated to his proper position—that of head of the Department of Athletics.

To one who doesn't know this man, because of his fewness of words, he would appear as stern and unsympathetic. But those who do know him, respect him, love him, and fear him. His teams work for him when every other incentive fails.

It is with deep regret that we see him leave Mercer this year. His will be a place difficult to fill.
Football Coaches

MAJOR J. D. BLAIR

It's not known whether football coaching is Major's vocation or avocation, for he also knows a history book inside and out, and spends part of his time teaching classes in this subject. Not only that, but during the summer months he carries money sack for the Macon Peaches. But nevertheless, he is a football coach and one of no mean ability. Major Blair was first recognized as a real football coach at Lanier High School. From Lanier he came to Mercer as freshman coach and for the last two years he has been line coach for the varsity. He is a jolly, good-natured fellow and is liked by all.

COACH KAY TIPTON

Coach Moore realized that he couldn't let a man like Kay Tipton with such football ability devote all his time to such a thing as practicing law, and immediately upon his graduation from Mercer, retained Kay's services as freshman coach. The freshmen have found that this man not only knows the game to a perfection but that he also is a most likeable fellow. That's why they are willing to listen to him when he tells them where they are wrong and to play their very best when he gives them the opportunity.

Butch Hammack,
Captain
The 1928 Football Season

By Buford Boone, Sports Editor, Macon News

Although the record of the Mercer Bears for the football season of 1928 has not been and will not be chiseled in stone and left on the Mercer campus for future teams to refer to with pride, Mercer men look back on the afternoons that the Bears trotted out on the field of battle and pitted their strategy and football knowledge against teams of superior strength with a satisfaction in knowing that no one can truthfully say that the Bears did not fight through every game, no matter whether it was won or lost. Not one member of the Bear squad had a yellow streak in his makeup.

During the season Mercer played nine grid contests, winning three, tying one, and losing five.

On Sept. 28, the Mercer Bears opened the season by winning from the Presbyterian College Blue Stockings, 7-0. The game was the first played in the new Clinton, S. C., municipal stadium and the day had been set aside as homecoming day for the alumni of that institution.

Then the Mercerians returned to Macon and put in a few hard days’ practice before embarking for Athens and the annual game with the University of Georgia Bulldogs. It is an old Spanish custom for the Georgia players to run rough-shod over the Bears, and last season’s game was only a recurrence of what has happened before. Mercer dropped her second game 52-0.

On Oct. 16, Mercer opened the home football season with Howard College. Mercer led the Bulldogs at the end of the half, 7-5, but the intrepid Baptists from Alabama let loose a drive which placed the ball near the goal. A field goal was kicked and a touchdown scored later in the contest gave the Howard team the game by a 15-7 score.

On Oct. 20, the Bears invaded the den of the ferocious Alligators of the University of Florida and limped home after the most disastrous defeat of the season. The Alligators proved themselves to have one of the strongest teams in the S. I. C. and later defeated the University of Georgia eleven. The score of the Gator-Bear game was 73-0.

Then Mercer began to check up, and the following week met a crack team from Birmingham-Southern in the Centennial stadium. The Bears played good football and had the game won until the last few minutes of play, when one of the Southern players slipped away on a little 25-yard jaunt which advanced the ball to the Bear's one-yard line and which ultimately resulted in a touchdown. With the addition of the point after touchdown by a trick pass, the Panthers equaled the Bear score and the game ended 20-20.

Duke was the next Mercer opponent, to which the Bears bowed down to, to the tune of 38-18. On Nov. 10, the Bears again fell before the onslaught of the Oglethorpe Petrels, 15-0.

Then the stern gods of football relented and smiled down with favor on the Mercer University team. The season was closed in fine style with wins over the Citadel and Wake Forest. Citadel was played in Savannah on Nov. 17, and the win of the Bears over the strong team was a surprise to those who were familiar with the records of the two teams for the season. The score was 7-0.

In a game with many thrills and featured by hard playing on the part of both teams, the Mercerians emerged victorious over the Wake Forest eleven by a 14-12 score on Thanksgiving Day. The Bears won the hearts of Asheville fans in the game, and the clash between the two teams may be staged there again next year.
The Players

Butch Hammack, Captain
Center

When a darn knee ruins a good man, it’s hell—that’s what happened to Captain Butch. His knee was torn up in the Georgia game and he was out for the rest of the season. If Butch had been in more games this year, fighting, crying, urging his mates on to victory, there would have been a different story at the end of each game.

Buck Loser, Alternate Captain
Quarterback

Buck has indeed been a valuable man to both the team and coaches. His generalship as quarterback was of the highest type, his bullet passes have given Mercer many first downs, and his trusty toe has often booted the ball far into the enemy’s territory. We’ll miss you next year, Buck, old man.

Red Adams,
Guard

It is said that red hair is a sign of danger. Red is a dangerous man to opposing teams and is always in the midst of the scrap. In every game he is heard from, because he goes in to get his man, and he never misses. Red has one more year on the Orange and Black team to spread terror.

Bill Alderman,
Fullback

A steady, dependable player is an asset to any team, but a consistent player with exceptional ability is much more to be desired. Bill Alderman fills this last bill in every respect. As a fullback, a passer, a punter, and an all-round fellow, Bill is a valuable man to any team.
The Players

HICK GODBY,
END

Hicky showed himself to be an end of whom Mercer may well be proud. He rarely missed a tackle and can be counted on to get his man on the offense. Hick was one of the outstanding players of the year. He plays end to suit any man, and—Mrs. Godby.

BAGGY MALLARD,
END

Mercer's own and Macon's own—that's Baggy. He has proved himself to be one of the best ends that Mercer has ever produced. Baggy can't be stopped going down on punts and when he hits 'em, he hits 'em hard. And his enthusiasm in a game runs away with him and the team.

HARVEY STIPE,
GUARD

From Carrollton came a real gentleman and an excellent scholar by the name of Harvey Stipe who has won for himself the highest respect of his team mates and fellow students. Stipo has developed into a model guard, and is as sincere in all his playing and is as clean a player as ever wore a uniform.

SKINNY GEAR,
tackle

Skinny was voted the best linesman at Lanier High School, and has shown us at Mercer that there was a reason for this selection. He is tough as a lightwood knot and a deadly tackler. We know that he will be a mainstay in the Bear line next year. Watch this man.
The Players

Arthur Wright,
halfback

The right man to carry the ball when Mercer needs a touchdown is Art Wright, the flying Yank. Yank got his early training at Riverside and is one of the best backs Mercer has had in a number of years. In every game he accredits himself to the satisfaction of Mercer fans and is the best known player on the team.

Lehmon Newsome,
halfback

No man on the Mercer team could figure out opposing teams' plays quicker than Frog. This in itself made him a valuable man to the team. But he gained his share of ground through the line and 'round the end. As a first-year man on the varsity, we can't say enough about Frog.

Jimmie Matthews,
halfback

Old man jinx hopped on Jimmie's back in the form of injuries, and kept him out of most of the games. But once in a game, Jimmie was always a hard, clean fighter. He is one of the smallest men on the squad, but what he lacks in size he makes up in drive.

Harry Lane,
tackle

Harry was the dark horse that proved to be the man to fill the place at tackle. He was always a terror to the opposing teams and always fought hard. It was a common sight to see him tear through the line and break up a punt, throw a back for a loss, or do anything that caused fans to rise and cheer the young sophomore.
The Players

Clarence Stovall,
END
A man that minds his own business is Stovie, and his business in a game is to play end. Like all others who mind their own business, Clarence does his well. The fastest man on the team, a clear thinker, and a hard, sure tackler—what more can you want in an end. That's Stovie.

Brewer Corbin,
QUARTERBACK
Brewdie is another valuable man sent to us by Lanier High School. Lots was expected of Brewer and he has filled all expectations. Brewer is a brainy quarterback and in addition to calling signals, he can punt, pass, and carry the ball with uncanny skill.

Frank Branch,
tackle
There are many branches, but a hickory branch is no tougher than our own little Frank. Teddy is playing his first year on the varsity and has surprised everyone with his ability to tackle. He has the necessary weight and uses every bit of it to his advantage.

Lamar Plunkett,
tackle
Plunk never played football before coming to Mercer and the way he has come out is encouraging to any coach. He takes the game seriously and works with determination all the time. In the game and in practice he carries his share of the burden. We are expecting greater things out of Lamar.
The Players

JOE MERRITT,
center

Joe is always in the fight and next year his services will be sorely missed, for he plans to enter the medical school. Joe is a stonewall on the defense and on the offensive he helps open the line for substantial gains. Joe is one of the scrappiest centers in the S. I. A. A.

JOSEPH MATT,
halfback

Gordon made a real contribution to Mercer when they sent us Jodie, flashy halfback who can just naturally burn the wind. Jodie is a colorful open field runner and can be depended upon to do his part. He plays safety and knows what that word means. We predict that Jodie will turn out to be one of the greatest backs Mercer has had.

JACK FREEMAN,
center

Jack graduated from the freshman team last year and when Butch Hammack was forced out on account of injuries, an able assistant was found in Sleepy. He carried on the fighting spirit of Mercer and when in the game always drew his share of the laurels. Two more years ought to be bright ones for Jack.

EMMETT WALLER,
guard

Smiling Shorty didn't get in as many games as we would have liked. Not a spectacular player, but steady and consistent. He is the man who spills all the interference. We hope that Shorty gets a better deal next year.
The Players

DOYLE BARNES,
Guard

Dick has the qualities of a good back and the qualities of a better guard. At this position he has served well. Dick sang his swan song to the team on Thanksgiving Day and his place will indeed be hard to fill. We hate to see him leave.

LUTHER RAY,
Tackle

A tackle that played at his best all during the season and who deserves much credit for the timely tackles made by him is Luther Ray. Luke fought all the time and was always right into the game. We are glad that he has another year on the team.

ROY AVEN,
Head Cheerleader

A man who has to keep up the pep of the student body when things look black has a hard job. We'll hand it to Roy for tackling this job with heart and soul. And the students realize that a more efficient cheer leader couldn't be found. We appreciate what you have done, Roy.

JULIAN NORRIS,
Assistant Cheerleader

We don't know where to look for a more able assistant cheerleader than Dick Norris. If Dick can't think of anything funny to say when things look dark and gloomy, we can look at him and get a laugh.
Freshman Football

Although Coach Kay Tipton’s freshman gridders did not have such a successful season as far as games won is concerned, it must be said of them that no matter what opposition they encountered they always went into a game with the old Bear fighting spirit. Captained by Harry Lamon, the Cubs played six games, five of which were on foreign soil, for their 1928 campaign.

The season was opened in Cordele with the Cordele High School eleven, the game resulting in a scoreless tie. Next followed a 19 to 13 loss to Gordon Institute in the only local game. In their annual encounter with the Georgia Bullpups at Louisville, Georgia, the Baby Bears were defeated 26 to 7, and in their next conflict lost a close game to the Georgia State Normal team at Statesboro, 7 to 0. Monroe A. & M. won by a 26 to 0 score, and the Oglethorpe Freshmen, in their annual Armistice game in Hawkinsville, emerged with a 25 to 0 victory.

Among those who played most consistently and were outstanding during the season were Davis, tackle, Lamon, center, Lee, Halfback, and Hollingsworth, quarter. These men, with a little more experience and seasoning, should make valuable additions to next year’s varsity squad.

BAGGY MALLARD
Captain
Review of the Season

By Jimmie Jones,
Sports Editor, Macon Telegraph

Whatever prestige the Mercer Bears might have lost in outdoor athletics during the school year 1928-1929, Oscar Long's whirlwind basketball quintet more than made it up indoors, a hasty perusal of the record compiled by the athletic proteges of the young Macon lawyer shows. The indoor Bears played twenty-five games during the winter and won twenty of them. They lost five—every one of them by eyelash finishes—but a team that can win four-fifths of its basketball games against such opposition as Mercer faced, has truly had a great season.

Greatly to the disappointment of all concerned, Mercer, the big favorite to win the S. I. A. A. tournament at Jackson, Miss., lost to Mississippi College's Choctaws in the semi-finals by three points, 39-36. Mississippi College was what is known as a “dark horse” in the sporting vernacular, for the Choctaws didn't win enough games to enter the tournament, but was conceded a place by virtue of Mississippi College being host to the 1929 tourney. You can't get around these hosts, for they've got to be present at their own functions.

Although Mercer failed to bring back the championship trophy from Jackson, the Bears can console themselves with the fact that they licked the team by eight points that won the Southern Conference tournament in Atlanta, the North Carolina State Wolfpack. Mercer turned back the Tar Heels, 39-31, in Macon about mid way the season. Other highlights along the trail that the Bears blazed through Dixie courts was Mercer's 41-24 defeat of Josh Cody's Clemson Tigers, who eliminated Georgia Tech, a heavy favorite, from the Southern Conference tourney the very first night, a pair of victories over Auburn and a 60-40 conquest of Vanderbilt in Nashville. All of these were ranking conference teams. Of the six games played against Southern Conference opponents, the Bears dropped only one, a 47-43 defeat at the hands of Duke, as gallant and hard playing a team of gentlemen as ever graced a Macon court.

Outside of a 47-43 loss to Birmingham-Southern in Birmingham, Mercer went to the S. I. A. A. tournament with a perfect record within the Association, having compiled seven victories against fellow members of its group, including a brace of wins over the powerful University of Chattanooga Moccasins and two defeats of Oglethorpe. The Bears proved their strength on the road by going to Chattanooga to whip the Moccasins, after they had dusted off the Petrels' tail feathers in Atlanta, 36-32 on the way over. Mercer's win over Oglethorpe on the latter's court was one of the most remarkable victories the team compiled. It was the writer's pleasure to see that game and any team that can lick the Petrels in their cracker box of a gymnasium with its loose backboards and crank-sided hoops has accomplished a miracle. Peggy Campbell, Brewer Corbin, Jody Matt, and Captain Baggy Mallard were great that night. They had to be.

To our feeble mind, the outstanding feature of Mercer's playing in the 1929 season was the Bears' record for road games. The team really played better basketball away from home than at home. Our files show that Mercer won nine games on the road and lost two, besides the two victories compiled during the S. I. A. A. tourney at Jackson. Mercer's record at home shows nine victories and three defeats.

Mercer had a great pair of forwards in Baggy Mallard, captain, and Peggy Campbell, the wiry sophomore from Vienna who in 1927 captained the mythical All-American High School team selected following the national tourney at Chicago and was voted a forward's post unanimously. Campbell, after playing brilliantly before the tournament, hit a slump at Jackson for some reason, but Mallard kept up his great work. He led the pack of tournament players in scoring and was placed at forward on the All-S. I. A. A. team by acclamation. Mallard rang up more than 300 points for the Mercer cause in 1929 and Peggy Campbell ranked next to him. Mercer had an excellent passing team and fine teamwork, in addition to two fine standing guards in Clyde Carpenter, the Kangaroo Kid, and Brewer Corbin of football fame. The team as a whole was good on defense. Maybe it was the presence of Lee Battle's beaming countenance in the Mercer cheering section again after he had missed his first football season during his twenty-nine years as a faithful servant of the institution when he hovered near death a long time, that proved such a good omen to the Bears. Anyway, they played consistently good basketball all season.

Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon Oscar Long. In his first year as coach, the 22-year-old graduate of the Mercer law school worked wonders with the team. He lost a crack center and a made-to-order running guard from the freshman team of last year, but he went ahead with the material at hand. The players supported him wonderfully. Most of them return next season, including Captain Mallard, Peggy Campbell, Art Wright, Clarence Stovall, Brewer Corbin, Jody Matt and Clyde Carpenter. As this was written, Howard Bridges, who did nobly as relief forward and played brilliantly in the tournament, was not sure that he would be back but let's hope so.
The Players

CLYDE CARPENTER
Guard
Highly praised throughout the season for his work at the back guard post, Carpenter has been called "the Bear jumping genius." Clyde was at his best in getting the ball off the opponents' backboard and passing it beyond the danger zone.

PEGGY CAMPBELL
Forward
High-point man of the freshmen Southern championship five last year, Peggy Campbell has proved a capable running mate for Captain Mallard at forward this season. Playing with the same consistency and shooting with the same accuracy at all times, Peggy's work has put several seemingly lost games into the victory column.

LYNWOOD MALLARD, Captain
Forward
Of all-Southern caliber as a forward, an end of no less ability and a star on the baseball diamond, Baggy Mallard, basketball captain, may safely be called Mercer's premier athlete for 1929. Mallard's cage work at forward this season has been nothing short of sensational, and although watched closely in every game, he was high-point man for the season by a safe lead.

CLARENCE STOVALL
Center
Although Stovall has had to face many a center this season taller by several inches than he, he has stayed with the best of them and has been a potent factor in the Bears' successful season. Several times, just when points were most needed to win, Stovall would be there to send the ball through the basket.

ARTHUR WRIGHT, Alt. Capt.
Guard
Fighting with the same spirit on the basketball court as he did on the gridiron and which characterized him as the "Flying Yank," Wright has yet to meet his superior as a running guard. Dribbling the ball up the court with dazzling speed, he would pass it to an open forward for points.
The Players

J. D. SEWELL,
Guard
J. D. did not see active service in any of the games this season. Coach Long was wise in holding him out. Tall and lanky, steady on his feet, he should prove a valuable man to the five next year.

BREWER CORBIN,
Guard
Assisting Carpenter at standing guard, Brewer has showed the best of form in breaking up opponent's plays and getting the ball to send it back down the court. Another season and his middle name will be "trouble."

JOSEPH MATT,
Forward
Like a flash at handling the ball and covering the floor, Jody has made a capable forward for Coach Long. Going in to relieve Mallard or Campbell, Matt has showed up well as an understudy, and should make a dependable man next year.

FRANK McWILLIAMS, ALT. CAPT.,
Forward
Whenever sent into a game, McWilliams could be depended upon to stick with his man, and then, in the twinkling of an eye evade his guard and send the ball whirling through the basket for another Bear tally.

CARL DeVauUGHN,
Center
Carl has ably assisted Stovall in holding down the post at center. Tall and of a neat build for such a job, DeVauughn, with another year of experience, should make Mercer another "Shorty" Green on the court.

HOWARD BRIDGES,
Guard
Howard has made a valuable player, filling the position of running guard. Speedy and expert at dribbling the ball up the court, Bridges has several times been an important factor in Mercer victories.

Freshman Basketball

Review of the Season

The 1929 edition of the Mercer freshman basketball team, although not creating such a sensation as did last year's Southern champions, have had a very successful season. Under the direction of Bill Underwood, star center on the cub five of last year and former Lanier High luminary, the Baby Bears this year developed a fast, shifty, relentless style of play that carried them victorious through a majority of their games.

The cubs played only two contests in Macon, winning both of them by comfortable margins, but were not quite so successful on foreign soil, breaking even in the quartet of games played away from home. Both losses were by close scores and one came only after the Baby Bruin's opponents had momentarily spurted ahead in the necessary extra five-minute period. Only one trip was taken by the cubs, who invaded South Georgia on a three-day jaunt during the first week in February.

The squad numbered ten men, some of whom will probably have a share in shaping Mercer's cage future. The forwards were Wilkes, Etheridge, and Carson, while McGinty, Kilpatrick, and Coursey were the pivot men. Braselton, Marshall, Hollingsworth and Marion alternated at the guard positions. The season's outstanding performers were Wilkes and Etheridge, two diminutive forwards whose slight build and unusual powers of speed and endurance were important factors in the cub's fast-breaking offense; and Braselton and Marshall, a couple of tenacious guards.
Baseball

PHONEY SMITH
Captain
Baseball 1928

With only six letter men—"Phoney" Smith and Buck Loser, outfielders, Darby Cannon, second base, Wallace Butts, short stop, Butch Hammock, third base and Doyle Barnes, catcher—returning from Mercer's 1927 varsity nine for work last season, Coach E. Parker Moseley had to cope with the problem of inexperience of many of the players in preparing for his 1928 campaign. When the season opened with the University of Georgia in Athens on March 30, four of the men were playing their first varsity game.

The outstanding weakness of last season's team was the pitching staff. None of the Bears' brilliant array of pitchers of the 1927 diamonders returned to do the mound work, and with the exception of Buck Loser, a junior, Coach Mosley had to depend upon sophomores to do his hurling. With last spring's experience these men should make capable mounders for the ensuing season.

A captain was not elected for the 1928 schedule as only two men, Phoney Smith and Wallace Butts, were eligible. These two alternated as leaders of the team for the season. With most of last year's squad returned, the Bears' 1929 season promises to be a successful one.

In this issue of the Bluster we carry, besides the offerings of our highly-talented staff, articles by recognized world authorities. We feel sure that you will derive not only a pleasure, but also invaluable information.

Those who are talked about in this issue have a right to get sore—the truth hurts. If you have not been mentioned in these columns, don’t think that you are innocent—you just haven’t been caught or your escapade was censored.

With these kind words, we’ll let you wonder in which class you belong. Maybe the following pages will tell . . .

Dear Sirs:

I have had a bad corn on my right foot for the past seven years and it gave me so much pain that I could not stand to put my foot in water. A few weeks ago I noticed your ad. and bought a bottle of 999. I am glad to say that I have only taken 38 bottles and my corn has almost disappeared. I feel certain that I will be able to wash my feet in another month. I can't hardly wait.

Gratefully yours,

Clarence Strippy.

Gents:

When I would walk up to a crowd of boys three months ago they would all make fun of my bald head, but now they are all jealous of my curly locks because I have started using 999. It worked the first trial:

Sincerely yours,

Coleman Clark.

Gents:

During hog killing time we were out of hot water and we had no way to scald the hogs to get the hair off of them. I accidentally dropped a few drops of 999 on one of the dead hogs and noticed that all the hair immediately came off where it touched the 999. We use 999 now all the time instead of hot water. It is so much more convenient.

Crockett Odom.

All of our men have beauty and brains."

"This used to be an exclusive lodge, and still is. K. A. is aristocratic and lovers of women . . . No, not ‘H.’—‘K.,’ please. Some people think we are social peanuts. We fool ‘em, though, and hold meetings at Wesleyan every Saturday night. We have the biggest man on the campus—Tom Vickery. If you’ve ever heard of ‘it’ in a lodge, the K. A. has more than that . . . I’m so glad that you want to be exclusive.”

KAPPA SIGMA
"This used to be a fraternity, but ‘Red’ Nightengale changed it to a literary society. Still we’re after men with an athletic odor. By forming a combine with a defunct local we have an athletic monopoly unparalleled in the history of this institution. We have captains and managers for years to come. Kappa Sig is the world’s oldest fraternity, but nobody believes it. Don’t mind the gripes of the football manager,—he’s harmless.”

The Oldest College For Women In The World

MACON, GEORGIA

Wesleyan College is a member of the leading college associations of the country. A standard college of highest grade located on a magnificent campus of 170 acres, fronting the Dixie Highway and the Central of Georgia Railway. 660 students, 70 officers and teachers, 3200 graduates. Library of 12,500 volumes. Thorough courses leading to the A.B. degree. Graduates of Wesleyan are admitted without examination to advanced courses in the leading universities of America and Europe.

Wesleyan has just completed a series of magnificent buildings in brick and marble. These buildings provide for the Infirmary, Students' Activities, Social and Recreational Parlors, modern and splendidly equipped dormitories, hot and cold water in each room, and beautiful dining halls. A memorial Library to house 50,000 volumes, Language Hall, Science Hall, spacious and splendidly equipped Gymnasium and swimming pool, studios and practice rooms for music, Shakespearean Garden, adequate facilities for golf, tennis, soccer, basketball, and all outdoor sports.

Individual Attention Given Each Student

CONSERVATORY—The Conservatory of Music and School of Fine Arts, 60 new practice pianos, large pipe organ, best instruction in Piano, Voice, Violin, Pipe Organ, Expression and Art under highly trained teachers. The world's greatest artists are heard in the Wesleyan Chapel. Joseph Maerz, Director.

MACON, a city of 70,000 inhabitants, is one of the most beautiful and healthful cities in the South.

PI KAPPA ALPHA
"You never have heard about Pi Kappa Alpha before, but that's all right. Don't anybody around the house know anything about it, either. If you don't have the money to be initiated, we'll carry your pledge till you graduate. We aren't particular about our men. If you have been bailed by at least three other fraternities you have a good chance of making Pi Kappa Alpha."

PI KAPPA PHI
"Some people don't think so much of Pi Kappa Phi, but we think it's a jam-up frat. We have gotten rid of the wets and an old Franklin automobile, so all we have to worry about now are good freshmen. You don't look like a man who would go back on his word. Pi Kap stands for all that is good. We believe that it is so good that we hate to let others in on it . . . You say you want some of it? Oh, goody, we've got two pledges now!!"

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON
"We can't understand how you slipped by us at registration. The man with the barrel of pledge pins must have been asleep. The small student body here cramps our style and so we do not have the usual large S. A. E. Club at Mercer. If you join the S. A. E. you will never need to join any other organization. We are also proud of our Wesleyan record—we have more pins and more 'lifers' than any other lodge. That's about all we can say for ourself."

SIGMA NU
"If we can sell you a house, we can sell you the Snake Lodge. You don't know what you want so you might as well take the house. We need lots of alumni to keep it up. We have men in all walks of college life. And some of them ride. Most of them will take you for a ride if they get a chance."

SIGMA PI
"Sigma Pi is the youngest frat on the Mercer campus and already we have the man who ranks next to Dr. Dowell. Pretty soon we'll be running the Presidents' Club and the Student Tribunal. We take any body in, and it won't be any trouble to get you the one white ball that elects you to membership. If anybody in this crowd is ready to take on Sigma Pi, step up and we'll put on the buttons."

ADVICE TO THE LOVESICK

No, Wilma, you shouldn’t fall out with him because he chews tobacco and wears long underwear. He is doubtless looking forward to keeping a healthy body, which is essential as you know to all happy marriages. Chewing tobacco kills mouth germs, which I know you don’t object to, and the “longies” keep the ole nasty germs off. You keep on loving him.

Marion, your theory about women is all wrong. Very probably the reason your girl was not at home was because she was at the deathbed of a rich uncle. And don’t never complain to her about how expensive she is. Women like to be expensive and will try to make you spend more.

BESSION TIFT COLLEGE
One Week From The Life Of A Campus Politician

Monday Night: Goes to Literary Society Meeting. The roll is called and the president makes a pleading speech for a better attendance. All new members are asked to rise and be identified. If they are not identified they are asked to give their right names. They are then members in good standing of the society. A debate is held, the subject of which is: Resolved, that no classes be held when there is something interesting to do. The affirmative wins by a unanimous vote. There being no other business the society adjourns until next Monday night. Our hero returns to Sherwood Hall where he gets into a bull session which lasts until the wee small hours.

Tuesday Night: Goes to meeting of the Presidents' Club. Quentin Davidson calls the meeting to order and asks for a report of committees. None report and our hero wants to know what committee he is on so that it can function. New committees are appointed. There is no regular procedure whatever in the meeting. Everybody gets up and says what he pleases whenever he wants. Will Ed Smith and Bob Gilbert get into an argument about the Cauldron. King Dixon offers suggestions. John Gilbert disagrees. Good bull session is started. Police get riot call. Time to go to bed before cops arrive. Everybody decides that at the next meeting some business will be transacted.

Wednesday Night: Fraternity Meeting. All pledges are run out of the house for fear they might get a glimpse of the Ritual. The Ritual is brought out from a secret place (Continued on p. 261)

Your Investment Program

Anything you undertake to do—whether it be building a house, writing a thesis, or what not—will be far easier to accomplish if a plan is carefully thought out beforehand. A plan gives perspective to any project and keeps the end in view regardless of minor deviations.

The object of your systematic saving of money is financial independence, and the plan consists of three main divisions:

1. The first investment of most men should be life insurance. While the interest received is not large, it is protection the young man wants until his estate is increased.

2. Next, he should have a small savings account in some strong banking institution where he will receive a small amount of interest and where his money will be instantly available in emergencies.

3. Then should come well secured, marketable bonds and stocks of established companies. Securities offer a wide field for investment and yield a larger return. This plan is elastic and will work over the entire period of your accumulating years. Keep the end in view—FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE.

This Company will be glad to assist you.

CITIZENS AND SOUTHERN COMPANY
HEAD OFFICE: SAVANNAH
ATLANTA MACON AUGUSTA COLUMBUS
CHARLESTON, SOUTH CAROLINA
and the meeting is started. One Brother is run out because he doesn’t know the pass word. Another Brother remembers seeing him initiated, so he is allowed to return. A prospective pledge is considered. Ten Brothers deliver lengthy eulogies as to his family, character, social standing and scholarship. Ballot box is passed. One man black-balls him because he saw him at the Pharm one afternoon wearing a sweater over a dirty shirt. Our Hero is fined a dollar for talking politics with another Brother in the back of the room. Visiting Brother is called upon to give a short talk. Two hours later he sits down amid loud applause and the meeting is adjourned.

Thursday Night: International Relations Club meets. Our Hero drops into the Cluster office and gets a copy of the new Cluster. Entire club does likewise. All go to meeting and read industriously. Member of Cluster Staff comes in and requests club not to take the Clusters as they have to be mailed. He is given the good old rasberry. Stanley Reese tries to get everyone quiet. No use. Jerry Clarke reads a lengthy paper on the great advantages of Peru. Loud snoring from the back of the room. Stanley announces that at the next meeting a paper will be read on the great advantages of Peru. Meeting breaks up.

Friday Night: College Dance. Our Hero dances with every girl there and tells her she is the only one on the floor that can really dance. Asks her for a date. Hopes she won't give him one. Gets a date. Realizes that he has a date with three girls for one night. Laughs at the joke he has pulled on them. Jolly ole joke is on him because they forgot about the date as soon as they gave it to him. Gets in a fight after the dance. Everybody is fighting. Nobody knows what the fight is about. He is wearing his roommate's shirt and gets it torn. Gets knocked out and is carried home and put to bed.

Wins a big pot with a pair of deuces. Gets very brave. Loses. Wins a small pot. Deuces, treys, and one-eyed jacks made wild. Limit raised to a quarter. Plenty of action. Daylight. Game breaks up and our Hero has won thirty cents. Most excellent night. Sleeps until late Sunday afternoon. Goes to Wesleyan to see the girls parade.

Sunday Night: Goes open dating. Calls on every girl in town. Tells each one she is the only one he is going to see that night. She acts very flattered and he sees that she believes him. She doesn’t. She just looks that way. After twenty or thirty such calls, he goes to town and eats a sandwich. Contemplates on the joy of being alive. Secretly rejoices that he is so good looking and such a social success. Feels contempt for all the other students. They cannot be as fortunate as he. He has IT. Goes back to Sherwood Hall and is ready for another successful week.

Money To Lend For Business Education

Business education has become a necessity. Big men of affairs say: "Nothing else costs so little and pays so much." Men and women need it, no matter what their work is, no matter whether they have property or, whether they are trying to make a living. To give a boy or girl a good business education is better than giving him or her an estate, and if you give your children an estate they will certainly need a good business education to take care of and manage it.

We have money to lend to help get such an education. We have selected the GEORGIA-ALABAMA BUSINESS COLLEGE AT MACON, GA., because of the record it has made during the past forty years. If you want a course there, or in the MACON LINOTYPE SCHOOL we will furnish the money. For particulars, address,

Rat Court

The curtain rises on a group of freshmen, huddled in a corner of the room like scared chicks when the hawk is near. Upperclassmen are lounging about, with masks of stern seriousness hiding their real spirit.

SOPHOMORE LOGAN: Get up on this table, freshman, and tell us your name and where you're from.

FRESHMAN GROW: My name is Charles Grow, and I'm from Colquitt, Ga.

SOPHOMORE LOGAN: That's not your name, freshman.

FRESHMAN GROW (perplexed): Well, that's what they call me at home, anyway.

SOPHOMORE WEBB: Go ahead and tell him his name, Herschell. He doesn't know what it is.

SOPHOMORE LOGAN: Well, freshman, your name is "little—green-f-i-e-s-h-i-m—a-n Charles Grow." Can you say that?

FRESHMAN GROW: Yes.

SOPHOMORE NORMAN (to upperclassmen): Did you hear that?

FRESHMAN GROW (looking about for a sympathetic face, and finding none): Well, wh-what have I done now?

SOPHOMORE WEBB: Why, you've committed one of the most serious offenses a freshman can commit. You didn't say "sir" to an upperclassman.

"Where Christian Culture Counts"

SPRIGHT DOWELL, President

MERCER offers, in the College of Liberal Arts, four-year courses leading to various professions—qualifies men for the business world in the School of Commerce—trains future teachers in the School of Education—equips students, in a CLass A School of Law, for the practice of law and for public life—provides theoretical and practical journalistic training in the Department of Journalism—prepares for medicine through pre-medical courses—prepares for the ministry and allied fields through the School of Christianity. The Summer School, with attendance increasing each year, offers unusual advantages to teachers. In addition, the curriculum is made available to non-resident and other students through an expanding system of Home Study courses. By use of the Cafeteria and the various dormitories, all under careful supervision, expenses of students may be kept within very reasonable bounds. College life is made pleasant in an environment in which friendliness and the family spirit prevail.

Scholarship Christian Character
SOPHOMORE WEBB: Shut up, rat! You don’t know what character is. Get down off that table and grab your ankles! . . . Now, fellows, we get three licks apiece. And you can let one of ‘em be pretty hard so he’ll remember not to sass upperclassmen again! Hey, you other rats! What are you laughing at?

OTHER FRESHMEN: Laughing?

SOPHOMORE WEBB: Yes, laughing! I think you’d ALL better grab your ankles too, since it’s so funny . . . We’ll all give each of ‘em a lick, fellows—to welcome them to Mercer!

SOPHOMORE LOGAN (leading the way): Freshmen (whack!) this hurts us (whack!) more than it does you (whack!). But you remember (whack!) the old saying (whack!) “Spare the rod and spoil the child” (whack!). So it’s for your own good (whack!) that we’re doing it for you (whack!) And that’s all (whack!) for tonight (WHACK!!)

SERVICE!

It gives a distinct satisfaction, at the end of the day, to know that you have aided some others in solving their problems.

It gives a sort of pleasure to know that your business is so closely correlated with every other business that much depends on your ability to advise with your customer and assist him.

It gives a contented feeling to know that you have given service to mankind.

Our organization is built up of carefully selected individuals who delight in giving that service which accomplishes the desired end.

This service is as near you as your telephone.

Just call 75

This Annual is an example of co-operation with the student body.

Mr. Will Ed Smith,
Havanna, Cuba.

Dear Will Ed:

Just a line or two to let you know that I am enjoying my rest out here in the sunshine with all the bathing beauties.

I guess you are glad that the Annual is off of your hands. I know I am. We had a big time working on it and as I look back over the events, I believe I really enjoyed it. How did the students like the book? I know that we started out to put out the best Cauldron that had ever left Mercer University and worked hard toward that end. But we made lots of mistakes I guess. Couldn’t we put out a whopper if we had it to go thru with again?

Haven’t I got another two thousand coming to me out of the profits on the book? If I have, just keep it for me till I see you in Paris in August. We’ll raise the roof then.

Sincerely yours,
Bob.
