Introduction

The obituary notices in this volume were abstracted from The Christian Index from 1880 to 1899. A previous volume was published by the Georgia Baptist Historical Society in 1975 which included notices abstracted from 1822 to 1879. Included in each entry is biographical information contained in the original notice and the date, page, and column in which it was found. These are arranged alphabetically with a cross-reference to all other proper names in the entry. Those interested in the complete obituary will find it on microfilm at a number of places listed below. Information about receiving a copy for a small fee may be obtained by writing to the editor of The Christian Index at 2930 Flowers Rd., South, Atlanta, Ga. 30341.

The Christian Index has had a long and varied history. It was published at Washington, D.C., in 1822 as The Columbian Star because it was owned and printed by Columbian College. In 1827 the paper was moved to Philadelphia, where in 1829 its name was changed to The Columbian Star and Christian Index. The title was reduced to The Christian Index in 1831, and the journal was moved to Washington, Georgia, in 1833 when Jesse Mercer became owner and editor.

The Christian Index bought out The South-Western Baptist, published in Alabama, and became The Christian Index and South-Western Baptist in 1866. By 1872 a still wider area was covered by this paper when The Christian Hearald, published in Tennessee, was absorbed. Both before and after the years of The Florida Baptist (1873-1875 and briefly in the 1880s), The Index carried news of Florida. By 1878, then, The Christian Index contained information concerning Baptists from many states, having merged with or absorbed papers from Alabama, Tennessee, and Florida.

Research for this book was done with the aid of student assistants employed by the Georgia Baptist Historical Society Depository located at Mercer University, Macon. Appreciation is expressed to them and to the Committee on Baptist History of the Georgia Baptist Convention which made funds available to assist with the project.

A complete file of The Christian Index on microfilm may be found in the following locations: Georgia Baptist Historical Society Depository, Stetson Memorial Library, Mercer University, Macon, Georgia; Georgia State Archives Building, Atlanta, Georgia; the office of The Christian Index, Atlanta, Georgia; the Dargan-Carver Library, Nashville, Tennessee; and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary Library, Louisville, Kentucky.
